MEDIA INVITATION

FIRST COHORT GRADUATION IN OUTWARD BOUND TRUST KENYA, OLOITOKTOK

The Kenya School of Government invites all media to the inaugural graduation of the First Cohort of Public Officers who have been trained at the Outward Bound Trust of Kenya (Outward Bound School), in Oloitoktok.

The Kenya School of Government partnered with the Outward Bound School in a bid to achieve willful compliance to ethics and integrity values, rules and regulations by public officers and to instill the importance of commitment in the provision of services to the public. The program targets public officers undergoing training at KSG.

What : Graduation of Cohort I of Public Servants

When : Monday, July 29, 2019 at 9.00am.

Where: Outward Bound School, Oloitoktok

Who : Michael Yugi, CEO Outward Bound Trust Kenya

Prof. Ludeki Chweya, Director General Kenya School of Government

Background

Purposefully, public servants are seemingly aware of the values they ought to uphold; the rules and regulations they ought to follow; and of the demeanor and attributes they need to project while offering services to the public. It is, therefore, imperative to address the gap such that though endowed with such information, the public service still experiences some aspects of negligence, lethargy, and inefficiency. These are the gaps that the partnership between the Kenya School of Government and the Outward Bound Trust Kenya seeks to address through experiential learning.

There will be an opportunity for on-camera interviews with the CEOs of the two institutions to probe the program.
